Purpose

To outline the Port Moody Public Library's (hereafter PMPL) role and position related to applicable Copyright and Intellectual Property legislation.

Policy Statement

Introduction

PMPL seeks to advocate for, inform, and support the intellectual property rights of the creator as outlined within Canadian legislation while balancing the social benefit and educational value of fair use.

Copyright Law Primer

The majority of the material in the library's collections is subject to copyright. The intellectual property laws of Canada govern the making of reproductions and/or use of some materials. Certain copying may be an infringement of copyright law.

In Canada, fair dealing is a long-standing feature of copyright law that permits certain uses of copyright material in ways that do not unduly harm the interests of copyright owners, but which could have significant social benefits. Fair dealing could include research, private study, education, criticism, review, news reporting, parody or satire.

Responsibilities

It is not the role of library staff to interpret the Copyright Act for users. PMPL is not responsible for infringing copies made by users of the library's copying equipment and Makerspaces. It is the user's obligation and responsibility when making copies to determine and satisfy copyright, licensing or trademark restrictions when using PMPL's collections, equipment and software.

PMPL staff and users may make copies for specific purposes under the fair dealing provision of the Copyright Act. Any concerns about the legitimacy of staff copying for these purposes will be referred to PMPL's Library Director or designate.

PMPL's copying services, whether the copy is made by library staff or a user, are provided without a motive of financial gain. Any fee charged is intended to cover a portion of the costs the library incurs in providing services.

PMPL will post signage to make users aware of the requirements under the Access Copyright license.

A rights holder who claims infringing copies were made by PMPL staff or users is referred to the Access Copyright license negotiated through the province of BC.

If requested, staff will assist members of the public in accessing an online version of the Copyright Act.

Permission to Use PMPL Created Material

PMPL retains copyright for content created by the Port Moody Public Library. When content is created by the Port Moody Public Library (and PMPL is the copyright holder), it is covered under a Creative Commons Attribution-Non-Commercial 2.5 Canada License. This material can be used for personal or research use without prior permission. PMPL requests attribution in the personal and scholarly use of the material. A credit line, "Courtesy of Port Moody Public Library" should be provided if material reproduced from the library's collections is published for commercial or non-commercial purposes in print, online, or in other media. Commercial use including but not limited to: reproductions, redistribution, publication, or transmission whether by electronic means or otherwise without prior written permission from PMPL is prohibited.
